

Would you like to make a difference to earlier diagnosis of cancer in north east London?

We are looking for patients to help us develop and launch a new Alliance Diagnostic Hub for cancer in north east London. This pioneering Hub will be the first in the country.

Would you like to be involved in setting up a world-leading Hub which will:

- Provide easier and faster diagnosis of cancer
- Improve monitoring of people with health conditions that put them at higher risk of developing cancer
- Have a person-centred approach to diagnosis
- Be a training centre of excellence for NHS staff
- Explore cutting edge research, technologies and techniques

We are looking for people to join a Patient Advisory Group for the Alliance Diagnostic Hub. This group will help ensure that the design and delivery of the Hub is focused on maximizing the benefits for patients.

UCLH Cancer Collaborative brings together hospital trusts, GPs, health service commissioners, local authorities and patients across north and east London and west Essex.

We are looking for people who:

- Have experience of prostate, upper gastrointestinal (GI) or colorectal/bowel cancers (as a patient or family member); or
- Have liver cirrhosis, Barrett's Oesophagus, Inflammatory Bowel Disease (IBD), or polyps; or
- Are a member of a community group in north east London

You must be committed to working collaboratively and broadly representing the diverse views and needs of people affected by cancer and pre-cancerous conditions. Participation in other cancer networks and links to community groups is considered really helpful.

Interested?

If you would like to find out more about applying to join the Patient Advisory Group, then we encourage you to contact us for an informal discussion.
